

THE ACCOMMODATION

Black Bluff View Retreat is in the middle of 40 hectares of mostly bushland outside the township of North Motton, 12 minutes inland of the coastal town of Ulverstone. This property is 90 minutes from the iconic Cradle Mountain and 80 minutes to the rainforests of the Tarkine. It overlooks the Leven River valley, the Dial Range to the west and the Black Bluff Range to the south. Native wildlife abounds with resident echidnas, wallabies and possums and a myriad of spectacular bird species from wedge-tailed eagles to superb fairy wrens. The property is carbon neutral with both reticulated and solar power. It has good mobile reception and free wifi.

Black Bluff View Retreat has a central dining area, two large and sunny living areas, a well-equipped kitchen and office and three large double bedrooms and a single bedroom. There are bathrooms upstairs and downstairs. The house is very private, warm and snug, heated by both a large wood heater and an open fire for those chilly nights (wood supplied).

Rare Earth Tasmania is a locally owned and operated nature-based business. It offers accommodation packages and fully guided wilderness experiences tailored to fit individual needs. Rare Earth Tasmania will give participants the opportunity to experience and learn from a truly unique and outstanding part of the world. You will be able to immerse yourself in these special, rarely visited places in comfortable, relaxed and expert company.

Rare Earth Tasmania is based in the northwest region of the island state of Tasmania which includes Cradle Mountain, the Tarkine (takayna) cool temperate rainforests and wild Southern Ocean coastline, isolated canyons, rivers and waterfalls as well as prime farming land and wineries. It specialises in small group experiences and in linking areas visited with real life learning.

EXPERIENCE THE TARKINE (TAKAYNA)

Rare Earth Tasmania will give you the opportunity to immerse yourself in one of the planet's great natural wonders – the temperate forests, waterfalls and coastlines of the world acclaimed Tarkine (takayna).

The Tarkine contains Australia's largest temperate rainforest, much of which is still undisturbed but which is at threat from logging, mining and climate change. The area has close links to the ancient super-continent of Gondwana and contains many amazing plant and animal species, including the giant fresh-water crayfish, several endemic species of burrowing crayfish, Tasmanian devils, quolls, wedgetail eagles and ferns, mosses and fungi. It is rich in indigenous history and contains world class fossil deposits and cave systems.

We at Rare Earth Tasmania want people to experience the sheer beauty and serenity of nature's best. Our focus is to see guests inspired, energised and refreshed, and to form an intimate connection with this very special place.

Rare Earth Tasmania is committed to the protection of takayna. The company wants to give others the opportunity to learn from its uniqueness and wildness in the hope that those who experience its natural beauty and serenity will become advocates for its long-term protection.
